December 5 was a good day for the Elk Point Junior Women's Curling team, when they won over St. Paul with a score of 11 to 4. These young ladies, under coaching of Gail Hurtubise, left, are Cathy Irvine, skip, Wendy Lorenson, 3rd, Wanda Garriock, 2nd and Lori Irvine, lead.

Thus will now go to compete in the District Playdowns in St. Paul, December 11 to 13. Some 16 zones participate in this Northern Alberta District Curling Playdowns. The girls made it all look so easy!

Town supports study

The Town of Elk Point voted to support plans for a feasibility study for establishment of a regional landfill site nine miles northwest of Elk Point, at Monday's regular meeting.

Inspection of the site, SW 34-57-7-W4, was scheduled for Tuesday afternoon. Soil tests of the parcel, submitted by Alberta Environment to the Lakeland Regional Landfill Authority, indicate that the land would be suitable for this use. The site would have about 25 years of potential use, Council was told.

The Landfill Authority requested the municipal councils of St. Paul, Elk Point and the County of St. Paul to determine if they would support in principle a feasibility study of the site following their December 2 meeting.

Council also agreed to support in principle plans to construct a livestock show ring, riding arena and race track, which were presented to the Municipal Recreation and Cultural Board by the Elk Point and District Agricultural Society and the Elk Point and District Light Horse Club. The Town will write to the County of St. Paul regarding this.

Employees of the Town of Elk Point will have a 5 day Christmas break. Council voted to close all municipal operations on December 24, in addition to December 28, which they receive off in lieu of Boxing Day, which falls on Saturday this year.

A proposal to establish a municipal subscription contract with the Lakeland Review was turned down, after study by the Finance Committee.

Also turned down were requests to suspend the "no parking" zone regulations on 51 Street during the December 17 Christmas Concert, and a request from the Volunteer Fire Department for funds for a firemen's Christmas party.

The 1988 municipal staff salaries were discussed at length

Chamber plans extravaganza

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce is deep in plans for a major one-night Christmas shopping event, scheduled for Tuesday, December 22. From 7 p.m. to midnight, the whole family can finish up their Christmas shopping, enjoy outdoor entertainment, and enter their names for prizes, including a trip for 2 to Las Vegas in the adult draw.

The participating businesses will feature various in-store-specials and draws of their own, and will also validate their squares on the "Santa's Shoppers' Bingo" cards which will be printed in next week's Lakeland Review, and will also be available at the businesses.

Video movies for the younger set, groups of carolers, and visits from Santa Claus and his elves will make Elk Point a very festive place on this special night, as Christmas draws very near.

Watch next week's issue for all the details of this exciting event.

Lighting contest

The Chamber also agreed to continue their long-time tradition of a residential and commercial Christmas lighting and decorating contest. Prizes, as in other years, will be $25 for first, $15 for second and $10 for third prize in each category. Judging will take place on the evening of December 23. Last year, with the Chamber 'in hibernation', the Town of Elk Point kindly took over the contest in their stead.

Ag Society announces trade fair

Elk Point's first-ever Trade Fair is in the planning stages, Agricultural Society President Glen Harms announced last week to the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce.

The Trade Fair, set for April 15, 16 and 17 at the A.G. Ross Agricentre, will have an agricultural flavor, with displays by machinery and chemical companies as well as local merchants.

There has already been a "very strong response" to the idea, Harms said. The Chamber added their support to the concept, and indicated that they will take part in the fair.

The Agricultural Society has made arrangements to have the arena divided into 90 booths by a professional trade show group. Entertainment and other activities are also being planned for the 3 days.

Elk Point has "the cheapest prices on goods and services" in the area, Harms said, "and it's time to promote this" to other localities which have traditionally been shopping destinations for Elk Point residents. "It's time to reverse the trend".

Harms also announced that the Ag Society is moving ahead with plans for an equestrian centre in or near Elk Point, which will have an indoor riding ring, show ring and barns. No site has yet been determined for the project.

Representatives of the Chamber of Commerce Christmas Extravaganza Committee visited Council to request permission to have a bonfire on 50 Street between 50 Ave. and 49 Ave. during the festivities. The Chamber was advised they will need a fire permit, and a parade permit if a snowfall arrives in time to allow sleigh rides. Closure of the one block to allow for the bonfire was approved from 4 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 22 to 7 a.m. Wednesday, Dec. 23.

Recreation and Culture news

By Gail Kozicky

This past September the new Elk Point Municipal Recreation and Cultural Board came into its own. The Board functions as an advisory body to Elk Point Town Council. Members of the board are: chairman Marshall Kachmar, vice-chairman Lawrence Pidluzny, secretary Bev Bepalko, Allan Frankiw, Alvina Schuhmacher, Bruce Kleeberger and Hally Burton. Pat Vincent represents the Town of Elk Point, administration, and Gail Kozicky is research assistant and program aid. The Board meets on the first Wednesday of the month at 7:00 p.m. in council chambers.

The past regular Elk Point Municipal Recreation and Cultural Board meeting, Dec. 2, had a very full agenda. Three delegations made presentations: Jeannette Boulet - Regional Representative of Cultural and Multi Culturalism from St. Paul, came to acquaint herself with the new board and to acquaint us with the role she can play with the board.

Laura MacKay - made a representation regarding the youth and recreational needs in Elk Point. Mrs. MacKay, first recommended that sufficient lighting should be installed at the north end park playground. Secondly, Mrs. MacKay submitted a complete guide for a summer program for 2, 3, & 4 year olds, and identified the need for developing an audio program in the library for teens.

The Elk Point and District Light Horse Club, represented by Jerry Blize and Lionel Lavoie, presented a proposal for riding facilities for their club.

Business arising from the agenda included, the Alberta Historical Resources Foundations request for nominations for "Heritage Sites and Artifacts Award," "Heritage Service Award," and "Award of Honour."

Suitable people were nominated and these names will be forwarded to the foundation.

New Business included the Celebration '88 awards. The Celebration '88 awards are to recognize those Canadians who have made outstanding contributions to their communities. Medals will be awarded to individuals who have made outstanding contributions to amateur sports. Certificates will recognize those who have contributed to the quality of life in their community, in any field of endeavour. Check the advertising under the Town of Elk Point for submission information.

The 1988 Winter Games will be held in Red Deer, January 28-31. To find out how to qualify and get more information call the Alberta Sport Council Zone co-ordinator - Malcolm Kano, Lloydminster 403-871-6430.

I am pleased to be given the opportunity to work in Recreation and Culture for the new Elk Point Municipal Recreation and Cultural Board, and the Town of Elk Point. I come to this position with considerable similar experience and I have been given some exciting projects to work on.

One of the projects I will be doing is a needs survey. The survey will be helpful in determining the requirements in recreation and culture of individuals and groups in Elk Point, and I look forward to the residents' involvement.

I hope to be involved in some programming as well. It has been suggested that I organize Day Packages to Kinosoo Ridge for our skiing enthusiasts. If you are interested in skiing at Kinosoo or have other ideas call the office at 724-4409. My office is located in the "old" court house, please drop in!

Community youth news

By Christy Boulter

Hello again. Now that I've been on the job for three (3) weeks you may be wondering what I'm up to. Well, I was working on a New Years Bash for our young adults, unfortunately most of our young people are busy, busy, busy, getting ready for the Christmas Season, so the New Years Bash had to be cancelled, postponed actually, till January 8, 1988 when we'll put on a Back To School Bash. So if any of you young people out there have some free time and want to start things happening in your community, please give me a call anytime between 8:00 to 12:00 and 1:00 to 5:00 at 724-3800.

The idea for a Drop-in Centre is coming along nicely, right now we are looking into raising money for a pool table. Our Town Administrator, Pat Vincent, has been the first to kindly volunteer his services as a supervisor when the project gets off the ground. Thanks, Pat.

On December 14, there will be a bunch of us out carolling around the community, so keep the chocolate hot!!

If we ever get some snow many people have expressed interest in cross-country skiing.

If any of you eager beavers out there have some good ideas or want to lend a hand please give me a call. Thank you for your support.

Christmas time's a-coming

There's an air of excitement and anticipation in Elk Point this week, as the retail business community lays plans for a major shopping event which will let us all stay up late and keep an eye out for Santa Claus.

Even if we're a little old to hang up our stockings, we still thrill to the sound of Christmas Caroling, the sight of sparkling multi colored lights and glittering tinsel. The thoughts of shopping bargains and a trip to Las Vegas will dance in our heads all the way until the big night occurs, and we can head downtown to finish up all our Christmas errands and maybe win a prize along the way.

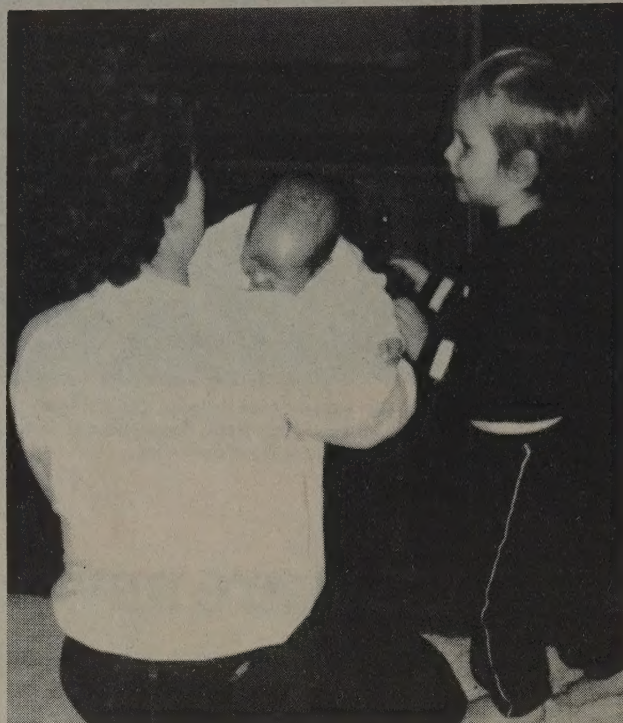

Last year, the Chamber was in hibernation -- we even had to have the town pinch-hit in the lighting and decorating contest. There hasn't been a major Christmas promotion for several years, and some thought time and interest would be lacking if an attempt were made this year.

But such is not the case--the idea, in one short week, has snowballed. When has a chamber committee ever had 3 special meetings, 2 at what many consider a very early hour, in one short week, and with good attendance at all?

The results of all this planning, if they reflect the enthusiasm with which the event is being planned, should be an extravaganza second only to the Canada Day celebrations for which Elk Point has become widely known.

Congratulations to the Chamber -- no hibernation in sight this year!

Beautiful babies

By Irene Magnusson

In this month of November, I have good reason to celebrate, for the events of time have given me not one, but two, brand new great-grandchildren. The event of new babies in our family has fallen off, just as in many families in past years, but still they do appear, from time to time, all as welcomed as in any times.

New baby no. 1 arrived early in the dawn of November 7, a boy, husky and hefty at over nine pounds. He joins a two year old brother. Baby no. 2 saw the light of day in the dawn of November 27, a tiny, dark-haired six and a half pound girl.

The one is close, I've held him in my arms, admired his tiny fingers and toes, smoothed his soft brown hair. The other is far away, in Surrey, and I won't see her for a few weeks, I still don't know her name - but already she has generated love and a niche in my heart, and has become the focal point of life itself to her adoring parents and (also two-year-old) brother.

How can babies do this so fast? Partly, I think, because they are so very tiny, so very helpless and dependent on their adults. They are soft and fragrant, and weak, yet have strong demands, ready to fight for life and their own space in it.

Here in our land, babies are cherished and cared for, no need too costly, no want too small. Parents build their lives around them, siblings will find their lives changed for them, businesses are built to cater to their needs, day-care centres, kindergartens, schools are created for their care and up-bringing. Babies are important people.

In other lands, while parents no doubt feel as loving and have as much desire for a good life for their young, things are not always as rosy for the new-born babes. All too often they face starvation and disease, a homeless situation, poor shelter, discomfort and a life of misery. I'd say the tragedy of the poor countries, with famine and war around, is brought home to us especially strong, when we have a new baby to cherish and love.

It is small wonder that mankind has revered and celebrated the birth of that long-ago Child, come in the night in poverty and stress, more noticed by domesticated animals than by the humans around Him - still a great joy in the hearts of his parents

- and that we acknowledge that birth year after year. And mostly, at this time, we are thinking of the BABY He was, rather than the man he became.

I had some time alone, after hearing of the birth of my new great-grandson, to think on the miracle of birth, and of what a new life brings.. so jotted down these thoughts, which I would like to share with you. They are addressed primarily to the child, new born -whoever he may be - although he cannot hear my words or know my thoughts. (And of course the "he" can become "she" - all children in my notion, being created equal).

Oh - my great-grandson's name is Jeffery Matthew Young, and via the magic of telephone, I have just had a call from Ottawa, who heard from Surrey, B.C. that the new little angel will be named Francis Anne Fisher. How is that for a round-about news item?

Child New Born

On such soft tiny shoulders
Rests the burdens of this life
In your smiles or tears the workings of our days -
Pink tiny fist, curled tight
Holds your father's heartstrings
Your mother's deep delight.
You, small babe, are so many things!
To brother - a toy, a pest - playmate and friend.
To grandparents - a joy, a test - a proof of life eternal;
To neighbors - the new kid on the block.
To parents - proof of life from love,
nuisance, angel, king
Sweetness, delight, terrorist - Softness to mold - and sometimes a wall gainst which to bounce their heads...
But a soft spot is yours forever
And forever in their hearts.
To teachers you are a pupil to guide,
teach, discipline.
So many things!
You are citizen, to guard your country from without -
A taxpayer, wage earner, artisan, seed-planter, builder, thinker -
What you will...
To so many you are so many diverse things!
All will call on you,
But for yourself alone, sweet babe,
live on and for yourself alone
Pick your own life and live it as you will.

Libraries integral part of community

To: The Editor
Dear Sir:

Over the years public libraries have become an integral part of Alberta's educational and cultural community. After many years of neglect the per capita support received from the provincial government increased until it was one of the highest in Canada. However, during the past few years this funding has been frozen and last year was reduced by 3%. Libraries recognize that last year's decision was part of the overall government policy of fiscal restraint. Any further reductions in this grant must be opposed because they will result in crippling a valuable Alberta resource. The grant cuts, which we understand are being planned for public libraries, will reduce the per capita allocation (in real dollar terms) below that of 1980. If this were to happen, all libraries will suffer but rural libraries and library systems most of all. Recent news highlights the difficulties a major public library such as Edmonton is facing but the impact will be greatest on the many libraries outside the major population centers. There are over 300 public libraries in Alberta serving over two million Albertans. In addition to lending materials, many libraries provide additional services important to the educational and cultural life of their community. Many of these rural libraries rely on the provincial grant for over 50% of their annual budget.

This scenario becomes even more drastic when the impact of reduced provincial funding on municipal and other grants is passed on to the libraries since most rely on additional funding from local taxpayers. Already thousands of volunteers provide thousands of hours to help their library meet local needs. This valuable assistance is unable to solve the problems of a shortfall in funding.

I would ask your readers to bring to the attention of their MLA, the Minister of Culture, the Provincial Treasurer, and the Prémiér the importance of public libraries, otherwise efforts over the years to build what the public enjoys today will have been in vain.

It is essential during the present difficult economic period that the significance and importance of strong public library systems be made known, and that the support of Albertans for libraries be made clear.

Thank you,

Peter Freeman

The sports section

Any resemblance between the Lakeland Review and a sports section of any other newspaper, this week and last, is purely incidental.

Yes, we have a lot of sports news this week, and we had a lot last week. Those of you who are sports kins, or relatives of the competitors, will be happy with the coverage. Those who are not sports-minded, may think it's too much. But cheer up -- your interests will get their turn.

Before long, we will have pictures of Santa here, there and everywhere, along with participants in the various holiday festivities. Council news, Chamber news, and the doings of the various clubs and organizations will again come to the forefront.

It all evens out.

U.C.W. hosts successful tea and bazaar

By Irene Magnusson

The United Church Women's Institute in Elk Point number only twelve members, but cooperation and assistance from other church members and friends in the area make their annual Tea, Home Bake Sale and Bazaar an interesting and profitable venture.

Saturday, November 14, saw the tables laden, the tea brewed and the church hall rapidly filling. Rev. Sam Donaldson opened the Tea and Bake Sale with a prayer and his approval.

Presiding over the well-stocked table of craft items, Irene Miller, president of the Elk Point U.C.W.I., with assistance from Ivy Dunlop, Lena Stepa and Violet McFadyen, was kept busy as eager buyers made their selections from the beautiful hand-crafted articles offered. Here were Christmas decorations, children's toys, tablecloths, mittens, bibs, aprons and cushions, a real assortment of gift ideas and useful articles. And the pile melted fast.

Over on the other side of the hall, another table was spread in mouth-watering array with the fruits of many donor's kitchen skills - cakes, pies, cookies, muffins - you name it, there it was. Ila Borowsky and Barbara Milholland, with assistance from Irene Lindquist and Grace Barwick handled the customers, as they chose from the delectable assortment.

Near the entry, Bea Williams, with assistance later from Mrs. Barwick, had a stack of the U.C. calendars, this year bright with gorgeous flower photography, as well as the little "Heritage Book" 1988, an annual reading-for-every-day, by Edna McCann.

Kathleen McAleese collected 'tea money', while Marian Smith and Irma Palmer presided over the tea and coffee pouring. Later Anne Buck and Florence McGinnis took over, with Bea Williams assisting. And a delicious and well-filled buffet-type tea they offered, the tables decorated with Christmasy centerpieces.

In the kitchen, where the core works of any Tea takes place, Grace Pinder and Muriel Holthe kept the wheels turning, the plates filled and the sinks in use, with help from many other hands.

With the planning of a few, the assistance and cooperation of many, the effort was - while not as profitable as some years - still a successful enterprise, and the group wish to thank most sincerely all who participated in any way, with work or donations, and as well all who came to patronize this event. Funds go toward church work, charities (such as the Bissel Centre) and the upkeep of the rummage store. Mrs. Miller expressed the group's appreciation of the community's support.

HOSPITAL MINI MART — Last Friday drew several well-laden tables of giftware, and a large group of Adventure Hour visitors who came to shop and stayed to visit over coffee.

N. E. Winter Games soon

"Don't hibernate--recreate!" Students of F.G. Miller High School were urged by Marjorie Wowk, who visited the school to promote the North East Winter Games, January 17 to 19 in Lac La Biche.

Both athletic and cultural events are featured. For 13 to 18 year olds, zone competitions in which the winners can qualify for the Alberta Winter Games in Red Deer, will be held in biathlon, bobsled, luge, cross country skiing, ringette, nordic combined, racketball, table tennis, speed skating, ski jumping, team handball, curling, wrestling and boxing. Midget C hockey will also be played, but this group will not advance to Red Deer. Instead, Bantam B hockey, with a zone playoff in Marwayne, will be part of the Alberta Winter Games.

Special olympics and theatre sports will also involve this age group.

Host sports, for those over 18, will include men's and women's basketball, men's, women's and mixed volleyball, badminton, hockey, floor hockey, curling, squash and arm wrestling. Senior sports, for those over 55 years of age, will be shuffleboard, snooker, floor curling and cribbage.

A number of cultural events will also be part of the program. These will reflect the major cultures of the area, and will range from art displays to photography contests, snow sculptures to Cabane a Sucre, music and skits. Displays by Alberta Forestry, local fishermen and wild rice growers will also be featured.

An "athletes village" to house the participants will be established in local school classrooms, with foam mattresses supplied, for $8 per night, on a bring-your-own-sleeping-bag basis.

Registration deadline is December 15, and any interested athletes should contact Rod Scott at 645-5313 by this Friday, or sooner if possible.

Ms. Wowk told the students that the goal of the games is to encourage participation: "We're doing it for fun, for enjoyment and fitness...and some, for the pursuit of excellence."

Sun Bonnet Girl Wall Hanging - Fire Safety by Alberta Agriculture - Computer - Word Processing - Reading and Understanding County Financial Budgets - Financial Planning re: Wilson's White Paper - Sewing Machine Maintenance - Chinese Cooking.

Thank you for your support during our fall classes, I am looking forward to your continued support and great suggestions. Have a nice Christmas and Happy Further Edding for the new year.

Community Library News:

I was pleased to be selected as librarian for the Heinsburg Community library.

From our recently held book fair, sales were high enough that we were able to purchase two hundred dollars worth of new books ranging from primary to adult reading. Everyone is welcome to come in and have a look at our new author Stephen King titled "IT" is a story about six men and women facing the childhood horrors in a small Main Town. The other is titled "Echoes in the Darkness" a true story involving the 1979 murder of a high school teacher by author Joseph Wambaugh. I am looking forward to seeing you here and don't forget that the library is open until 9:00 p.m. on Tuesdays.

Librarian:

Cathy Botting.

Hospital Board host Auxiliary

By Irene Magnusson

December 2 saw the Elk Point District Hospital Board hosting the Hospital Auxiliary members to supper at the Empress, where a lovely meal was enjoyed. The Christmassy atmosphere of Jean's dining room, with brightly decorated tree, was appreciated by all. Following the supper, the board members graciously made a donation toward the work of the Auxiliary, accepted on their behalf by Treasurer Violet McFadyen. She thanked the Board members for their generosity and concern, both toward the auxiliary's work, and for the members themselves. Undoubtedly, the Christmas Spirit of Good Will Toward All Men, is alive and working yet again.

Don't let your Christmas sparkle go up in smoke

The warm glow of the Christmas season is something we all enjoy.

But don't let that glow turn into tragedy.

Keep your holiday season both festive and safe. Take a few moments for a quick check of your Christmas lights before you deck the halls.

If you notice frayed cords or broken sockets, replace the string. Keep metal icicles, tinsel and garlands away from lights. Don't use electric lights on metal Christmas trees. And when you are away or asleep, turn off all your decorative lights.

Only you can make your home a safe place. Start now.

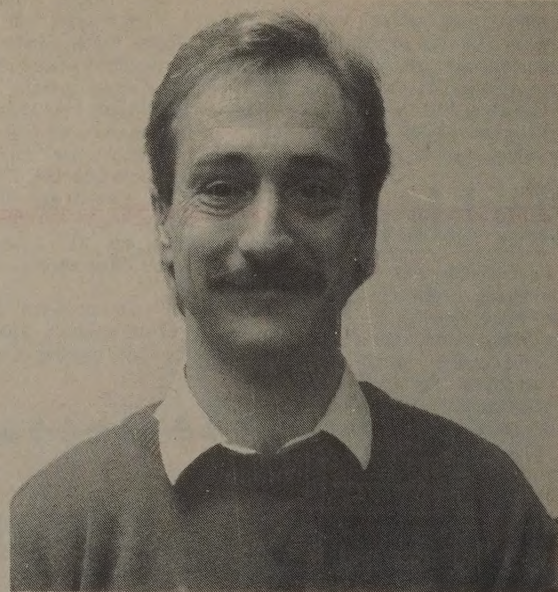

When it comes to electrical safety - don't take chances.

Clandonald News

By Shirley Oslnchuk
The Agricultural Society meeting was reviewed, and elections held. There are 137 members at present.

A workshop is planned for Jan. 18, with the title "The Visible Ag Society".

The responses to the Questionnaire have been summarized and recommendations made by Bill Carter. Copies of his report are available from him.

The 1988 executives are: president - Dennis Rewuski, first vice-president - Eugene Martin, second vice-president - Ken Lawrence, secretary - Elaine Etherington, grant coordinator - not filled (call Dennis or Ken if you can help out here), treasurer - Carrie Goldsmith, directors - Jean Martin, Dolores Brake, Shirley Grant, Colin Minish, Ken Lawrence, Dever DeFord, Gerald McCormack, Harry Brake and Bill Carter.

The Agricultural Society meets regularly the first Monday of each month in the arena. You are encouraged to attend.

The Landonville Whist winners on Dec. 2 were Betty West and Eddie Etherington - high scores, Jessie Nowosad and Lucille "Luke" Clack - second, Susie Goad and Freddie Douglas - low, and Betty West and Dana "Dan" Anderson-travelling. The next Whist Drive will be in the new year, date to be announced.

The Ag Society held a successful Christmas Craft Sale and Flea Market on Sat., Dec. 5. Good advertising yielded a full house of sale tables and a wide variety of products for a busy afternoon for buyers and sellers.

On Sunday afternoon the Ag Society showed "The Wilderness Family, Part 2" for the annual Film Day. Afterwards, Santa arrived with treats and about 60 children and uncounted adults enjoyed hot dogs, chili and hot chocolate. Thank you, Ag Society workers.

Please call Janet Matyaschuk SOON, before Dec. 14, with your ideas for Further Ed courses for the new year. Janet's number is 853-2092.

The Curling Club will be meeting on Thurs., Dec. 10 at 7:30 p.m. in the curling rink. Please attend if you are interested in curling.

Teen Club will be meeting on Fri., Dec. 11. Students will be notified through the school about plans.

On Nov. 28, Jason Bardoel, Yvonne Bardoel, Karen Brake, Tracy Convey, Mark Cusack, Shelly Cusack, Donna DeFord, Nadine DeFord, Troy Dobransky, Robert Garnier, Allen Janke, Kevin Kurash, Jodi Lawrence, Brent Martin, David McNamara, Shawn Minish, Shawn Simonet, and Aaron VanPeteghan received the Sacrament of Confirmation from Archbishop Joseph MacNeil. We offer them our prayerful congratulations.

The Bible Club Christmas Program will be presented on Sunday, Dec. 13, at 2:30 in the Bible Fellowship Church. You are invited to attend and stay for refreshments after.

The Gingerbread House competition takes place at noon on Tues., Dec. 15 in the school. All materials used in the construction must be edible. Two first prizes will be given, to an individual and to a group. If you wish to drop in to the school to see them, please do.

The Clandonald School Christmas Concert will be on Thurs., Dec. 17 at 7:30 p.m.

Congratulations to these Clandonald and Dewberry friends who have celebrated Anniversaries recently: Georgie and Blanche Butz - 49th, Alice and Harold Schoonmaker - 65th, Frank and Jessie Bowman - 60th, Bill and Myrtle McMullen - 50th, and Bud and Gertrude Elliott - 60th.!!!

The Friendship Centre Bingo this month will be on Mon., Dec. 14.

The Fish and Game Annual Meeting will be on Wednesday, Dec. 16 at 7:30 in the Hall.

The Winter Carnival dates have been set-Jan. 22 and 23, and all the local groups are taking part. Events in the planning are: on Friday, a Snow Sculpture Contest to be judged at noon, and a Dimetime Carnival at 7 p.m. Saturday will begin with a Pancake Brunch, followed by a Funspiel and Skating Party. Horse-drawn sleighs will be driven around town for rides, weather permitting. The Potluck supper at the Hall at 5 p.m. will be followed by a Talent Show in the school. Proceeds from the Talent Show will go towards the trip to Quebec for the grade nines.

Dig out your talents and enter, by calling a grade 9 student or Bill Carter.

Happy Christmas planning!

Elk Point Hospital Auxiliary presents

By Irene Magnusson

A good turn-out of members appeared for the November meeting of the Elk Point and District Hospital Auxiliary, Monday, the 23. It also being the Christmas meeting, members were pleasantly greeted by a brightly decorated table, courtesy of the hospital kitchen staff. Miniature Santas soon decked the table, as well as the members handed in their creations.

Reports showed good income by the group for November, with a large quantity of rags prepared and sold. These had been donated by a motel in Lac La Biche, and transported by Wasy Elaszchuk, president of the group. The Canteen had gone well, with good sales of some articles, treasurer Violet McFadyen reported. There have been three members in particular, running the canteen, keeping it open more hours. These were Gloria Lecopoy, Wilma Kjenner and Violet McFadyen.

A report on the "Disaster Exercise" was given, with a few commentaries by those who were involved - or thought they would be - that the process was called off too soon, before all had a chance to act, and that perhaps too much time and thought has been given to realistically "making up" the kids, not enough to how the actual involvement of others could be implemented.

Other reports showed that 16 tray favors have been made, with more coming. Purchases of gifts for the Christmas Baby have been made, also for the New Year's Baby. It was suggested coloring books and crayons be purchased for the pediatric ward, and perhaps some other 'teaching' toys.

Diana Anderson listed a few articles the hospital requires, which could be purchased by the Auxiliary. Therapist Moyra Holliday described other devices which could be beneficial. Dietician and Director of Support Services Charlotte Engstrom was on hand to accept articles supplied by the group.

A quantity of plastic 'food' had been purchased, to enable dieticians better to explain to patients food values. These were shown to the members, along with a plastic highchair, and a reclining wheelchair.

Christmas being a good time for presents and presenting, these were presented to Engstrom by Wasy Elaszchuk, on behalf of the group.

Later, treas. McFadyen had the honor of presenting Infrared Laser equipment, for relief of pain, to Moyra Holliday, Physio-Therapist at the hospital, a new modern piece used for patients in the therapy room. This piece of equipment cost $2,795, but is merely one of several items funded by the auxiliary in the course of a year. Other items will be purchased later.

There was no report available of the meeting at Tofield, as Irene Magnusson was unable to go, and Pat Johnson (also scheduled to attend) was not present at the meeting.

The members enjoyed a Christmassy lunch, prepared by kitchen staff, and exchanged the annual gifts. Wasy Elaszchuk read a lovely poem, "A Grandmother's Prayer," good wishes were exchanged, and it was agreed the next meeting will be the 25th of January, 1988.

Obituaries

COMA, Mrs. Nola Bertha (Sommerfeldt)

Passed away suddenly in Victoria, B.C. on Monday, November 30, 1987, Mrs. Nola Bertha (Sommerfeldt) Coma.

Nola was the most special mother and grandmother who loved her family and especially her grandchildren. She was truly a fine example and an inspiration to everyone whom she came in contact with. Her warm smile always lit up a room and she had a wonderful sense of humor. She was grateful for life and for the many blessings she received. Her strong sense of will and undying faith never stopped her from doing what she wanted to do. When her health permitted, Nola loved gardening and did beautiful painting on cloth, enjoyed quilting and hand work. She loved the outdoors and especially the mountains. She was an active member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints serving as Relief Society President and related callings, Primary teacher and had a real love for doing geneological extraction. She was a ray of sunshine on a cloudy day and will be very missed by her family and friends.

She is survived by three children: Charlotte (Rick) Jensen of Raymond, Darrel (Deirdre) Coma of Thorhild, Alberta and Laura Coma of Raymond; six grandchildren: Darcy, Darla, Lauren, Aaron, Leighton and Adrian; her parents, Otto and Laura Sommerfeldt of Cardston; four sisters: Ethel (MoVal) Purnell of Kelowna, B.C., Donna (Clifford) Takahashi of Cardston, Roma (Earl) Kennedy of Calgary and Verna Sommerfeldt of Lethbridge; three brothers, Darrel (Vicki) Sommerfeldt of Cardston, Ora (Rose) Sommerfeldt of Magrath and Lynn (Barbara) Sommerfeldt of Whiskey Gap.

She was predeceased by two brothers, William and Dee.

Funeral services were held Saturday, December 5, 1987 at 1:00 p.m. in the Raymond Stake Centre with Bishop Tim Tollestrup officiating. Interment followed in the Taylorville Cemetery.
